The 2026 Hack Club HCAV Scavenger Hunt

The Organization
Oct 30 2026

The Rules

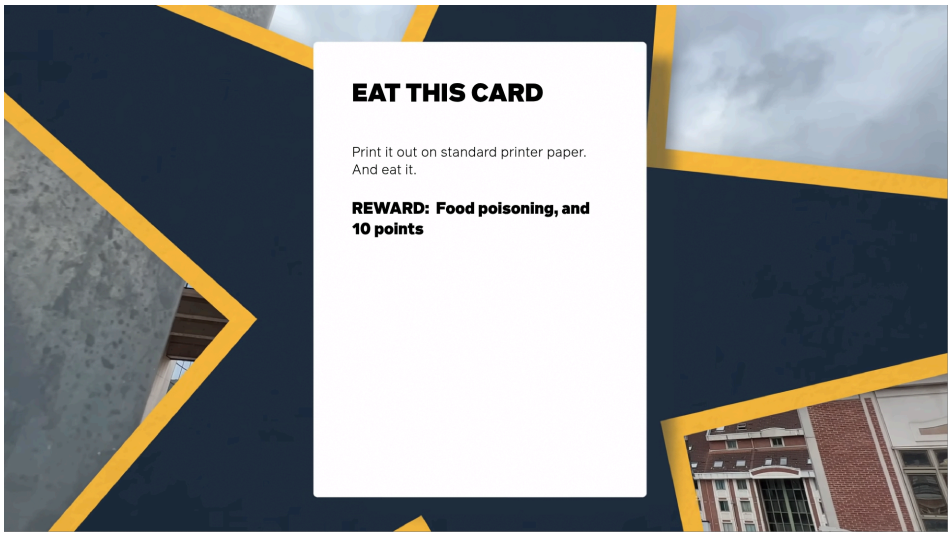

1. What is this? HCAV.
2. Affiliation. HCAV is a Hack Club community event, not an official or HQ sponsored program. This is not a YSWS, this is a YWYWWSIP (You Waste Your Weekend, We Ship Imaginary Points).
3. Teams. Register teams on https://hcav.hackclub.community. There is no limit to team size, and the minimum size is 1. You must be in a team to participate.
4. The Panopticon. We reserve the right to reject submissions from non-IDVed participants in cases of abuse. Don't make us do this.
5. Items & The List. The List, found on https://hcav.hackclub.community, consists of many Items that have to be created, found, eaten, survived, and many other verbs. Most Items have point values, and all Items have point values internally.
6. AI. Don't use it. It's more fun that way.
7. Prizes. The prizes are the friends you lose along the way. If we have budget there may be something a little extra :)
8. Submission. Submit most items via a Slack message in #hcav-submissions, with suitable proof (as defined by your judgement) and THE ITEM NUMBER AND YOUR TEAM NAME IN BOLD AT THE TOP OF YOUR MESSAGE. An Organizer will review your submission and either grant points or reject it and return it. You have unlimited rejections.
9. Secret Submissions. For submissions you would like to keep secret, DM the same format to @The Organization (the user, not the bot).
10. Code of Conduct. Follow it. If you do not, we may disqualify your team entirely. And your team probably won't like that.
11. Safety & Legality. Don't endanger yourself, others, or animals. Don't hurt Hack Club's image.
12. External Relations. Do not spam or harass anyone.
13. Sabotage. Don't.
14. Plagarism. We have made the decision to have most submissions be public. Do not make us regret this. Doing the items yourself is more fun anyway.
15. Cheating. Only if it takes more effort than doing it properly.

16. Scoring. Different teams may complete the same item. Each team may only complete each item once. Extra points may be awarded at our discretion. The team with the most points wins.
17. Multipliers. Multipliers do not stack. Choose one. They also only apply to the base point value of an Item, not bonuses.
18. Time. The hunt begins when we finally upload the List to the site, and ends 10 PM Eastern Time on November 2, 2026. Items submitted after this will not be considered. Time is a social construct, but deadlines are not.
19. Final Authority. The Organization has final authority over the Hunt and reserves the right to clarify Items, adjust point values, reject submissions, resolve disputes, and take bribes.
20. Whimsy & Joy. No whimsy, no joy.

1. The 2026 HCAV Scavenger Hunt list. [1 point]
2. Some of these items call for video recordings or imply the need for one to prove you did it. Not everyone is comfortable with this! So if you make a VTuber model and submit videos that way, animating in any objects you use and etc, we'll give you [50 points for the model, and a 1.2x multiplier on items submitted this way]
